

On the 25th February 2009, the Chief Constable of South Wales Barbara Wilding wrote a sworn affidavit that they knew was false, following my request for the identities of police officers.

She denied court cases took place in Barry Magistrates and knowledge of an incident in Cardiff when her Police broke into my surgery in broad daylight using crow bar and a sledge hammer. Her purpose was to put Ball the daughter of a police inspector she believed had been evicted from my flat living in with past drug dealer.

Long before the 8th June 2009 the Police knew I had no machine gun. She, however, arranged a MAPP (Multi Agency Public Protection Arrangement) meeting where (see leaked internal record) she was prepared not to arrest me for two weeks with the clear hope I may be lawfully shot as a level 3 MAPP victim, if I approached her.

There are over fifty police incidents involving myself where the South Wales Police refuse to release their respective crime numbers (occurrence numbers) as it will assist me in identifying the police that were implicated, all needed for 7 civil actions currently lodged in Cardiff County Court.
