

Reasons for my Hunger Strike Continuing

South Wales Police painted the machine gun, in my successful trial, a different colour to try and fool the Jury.

When I had gathered proof by MAPPA witness statements, the Police immediately had me jailed, unconvicted for yet another trumped up charge, that of harassment of a Dr Tegwyn Williams.

He had me sectioned under the Mental Health Act 1983 without a clinical examination.

He wrote I had "paranoid delusional disorder", a fixated belief I was being prosecuted by the South Wales Police, "significant brain damage" and a "possible brain tumour".

Dr Williams gave the information to secret MAPPA and Crown Court hearings to oppose my bail.

I continue my hunger strike in Cardiff Prison because I am still being refused:

1. A bail application in Cardiff Crown Court
2. Release of my medical records used in the MAPPA and Crown Court
3. Release of my confidential legal papers, cheque book, credit cards and computer needed to defend myself
4. An independent medical examination
5. And proper legal process for my damages claim.
